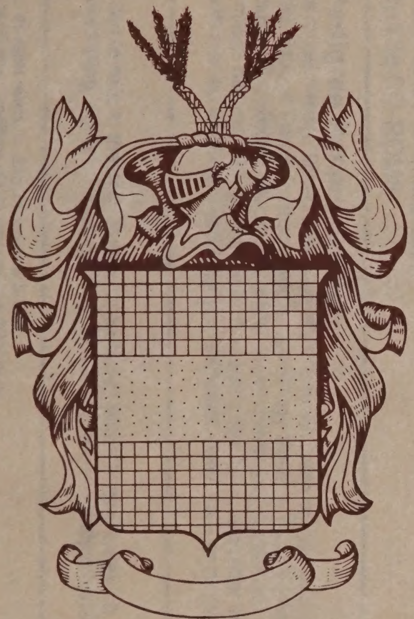
Coat of Arms



Briner

Historiography

The Briner Coat of Arms illustrated left was drawn by an heraldic artist from information officially recorded in ancient heraldic archives. Documentation for the Briner Coat of Arms design can be found in Rietstap Armorial General. Heraldic artists of old developed their own unique language to describe an individual Coat of Arms. In their language, the Arms (shield) is as follows:

> "De sa. a la fasce d'or."

When translated the Arms description is:

> "Black; a gold middle third."

Above the shield and helmet is the Crest which is described as:

> Deux prob. fascees d'arg. et de gu. de quatre pieces, sommees chacune d'un panache de plumes de coq de sa."

A translation of the Crest description is:

> "Two elephant trunks divided horizontally in four pieces silver and red, out of each is black rooster feathers."

Family mottos are believed to have originated as battle cries in medieval times. A Motto was not recorded with the Briner Coat of Arms.

Individual surnames originated for the purpose of more specific identification. The four primary sources for second names were: occupation, location, father's name and personal characteristics. The surname Briner appears to be patronymical in origin, and is believed to be associated with the English and Germans, meaning, "descendant of Briner, pet form of Briner." The supplementary sheet included with this report is designed to give you more information to further your understanding of the origin of names. Different spellings of the same original surname are a common occurrence. Dictionaries of surnames indicate probable spelling variations. The most prominent variations of Briner are Briners, Breiner and Breiners.

Census records available disclose the fact there are approximately 500 heads of households in the United States with the old and distinguished Briner name. The United States Census Bureau estimates there are approximately 3.2 persons per household in America today which yields an approximate total of 1600 people in the United States carrying the Briner name. Although the figure seems relatively low, it does not signify the many important contributions that individuals bearing the Briner name have made to history.

No genealogical representation is intended or implied by this report and it does not represent individual lineage or your family tree.

Love are also classed among the pioneers. Nathan Cox settled in the northern part of the township. William Cox, Andrew Cox and others of the Cox family were among the very first. William Dudley built near the present site of Dudleytown. James Dudley, the son of William, entered land near Dudleytown in 1820. He is said to have been the first resident physician of the township. The Blairs were there at an early day. John Moore and Joshua Moore located south of the present site of Dudleytown, and Joseph Brown was still further south. Thomas Catlins, William Briner and William Marshall were in the same neighborhood. The last named was Indian agent for a short time. James Shewmaker moved from Driftwood Township and settled on Chestnut Ridge. The Andersons and the Franklins built near Dudleytown. Tobias Crumb came a few years later, and settled about one mile east of Dudleytown. Edward Ballanger located on the farm afterward owned by Nathan Cox. The Brammers—Thomas and Robert—entered land one mile south of Dudleytown.

LAND ENTRIES.

The following are all the land entries made prior to 1825: James Crane, 1817; G. Shipman, 1822; Resin Redman, 1820; S. White, 1820; Moses Holman, 1819; Thomas White, 1818; I. Moore, 1819; A. Johnson, 1820; Caleb White, 1821; William Cox, 1821; Joseph Hiat, 1818; Nathaniel Cox, 1825; Ebenezer Johnson, 1821; Isaac Kellar, 1821; Reuben Rucker, 1820; James Dudley, 1820. Many have questioned the correctness of the tract book with regard to first land entries. It seems unreasonable that with such a large number of early settlers that so few entries were made.

LATER SETTLEMENTS.

More than forty years ago the Germans began to settle in this township, and the number has steadily increased, and at present four-fifths of the entire population are Germans. Many of them by the name of McCoy. While passing through the settlement en route to some point north, he met some old acquaintance who induced him to stop for the night and preach. Messengers were sent to invite the neighbors, and on that night the first sermon was preached. (The old newspaper from which this was taken neither gives the exact date nor the place at which the meeting was held.) A few years later a Baptist church was organized, but no house was built until some time in the thirties. This was an old log church which stood north of Dudleytown. The most prominent early families that belonged to the Baptist Church were the Kellars, Cumstocks, Blairs, Collinses, Briners, Brammers, Densfords, and some of the members of the Love family. The early preachers were Jesse Robinson, John Bell and William Gillaspy. The last named was the first to proclaim the missionary sentiments in the Brownstown Association. The advocacy of this doctrine brought upon him strong opposition, which at times almost led to persecution; but, ever zealous in support of what he believed to be right, he never ceased to advocate this doctrine until he had converted hundreds. After forty years of continuous labor for the cause of Christ he died, December 25, 1878.

Many of the settlers of the southern part of the township were members of the Mount Pleasant Class of Grassy Fork Township. The Methodists had no organization in this township, but frequently held services at the residence of Edward Ballanger, William Anderson or Joseph Brown. The ministers from the Brownstown Circuit, Rev. Rutlage, Waller, Benton and Asa Beck, were the most prominent.

PANTHER HUNTING.

As told by Josiah Shewmaker: "Elisha Ruddick went out for a hunt in the autumn of 1819, on the banks of Horse Lick Branch, about four miles east of Brownstown, in Washington Township. There was a large thicket near the branch in which

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that set of discs. Discs may be purchased individually or as sets.

Old Methodist Cemetery

From the Cemetery Records compiled by the Lost River Chapter DAR

Stampers Creek Township Section 12 T1N, R1E Abandoned

This old burial place, almost obliterated by time and the encroaching forest, has long been called bythe above name. It is about 1 mile south of State Road 56, and near the Paoli-Stampers Creek Township line. A pioneer Methodist Church stood near the graveyard, and a public road ran on the Township line directly South to Chambersburg. The road was long ago abandoned. The Church was on the Paoli circuit, and was called "Kearby's", being built on Edward Kearby's land. In 1840 the Church trustees were Edward and Joel C. Kearby, Daniel, Ezekiel, and Jacob Robbins. The Kearby families were among the early settlers from Kentucky. The graves of Edward and his two wives were covered by table tombstones, such as are used in the South. Beside the 20 stones with inscriptions, there are traces of several other graves. A few burials have been moved. The oldest marked stone is that of Elizabeth Kearby, who died in 1826.

NOTE from the editor: I have personally visited this cemetery. In addition to the stones listed by the DAR, I found one other, which is marked by an asterisk. I also cleared up a personal family mystery; the DAR lists Elizabeth Kearby's age at death as 19, which seemed impossible to some researchers. I carefully inspected the stone, and found her age to actually be 49, with the angle of the 4 being rather indistinct. I have photos of this stone which clearly show it to be a 4 and not a 1. I was also unable to locate four of the stones listed, but they may have been hidden in the underbrush, as it is a densely covered area. --VLH

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that set of discs. Discs may be purchased individually or as sets.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that set of discs. Discs may be purchased individually or as sets.

Please Note:

Submitter information is provided to help in the coordination of personal family history research. Use of this information for any other purpose, including marketing, advertising, or commercial solicitation, is strictly prohibited.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that set of discs. Discs may be purchased individually or as sets.

Land Records of Indiana

For

Jackson County

All original land descriptions were first recorded by the first surveyors assigned to lay out the congressional townships in the newly-opened federal land grants when opened for settlement by the early pioneer settlers. The original records do not always coincide with the civil townships established for Jackson County.

These records were compiled, copied and typed in 1972 for the subsequent transposition to the county. Authentic maps were utilized to establish those sections which currently fall into Jackson County boundary lines.

All original land ownership records are currently filed in the Archives Division, Indiana State Library, located at Indianapolis, Indiana. Microfilm copies are also on file at the State Library and at the Fort Wayne Public Library in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Historical contributions provide by Dr. Loren Noblit Vice President of the Jackson County Historical Society And D. L. “Don” Tatlock President of the Jackson County Historical Society.

Subject: Re: Briner Tree

I received the pages that you sent. I had not seen the site before, but it was quite interesting. I knew Ed Briner for many years, He has now passed away. He was a Dentist and a very active Ham Radio operator. He wrote letter and e-mail.He told me a lot about his family and where they came from. William and Hannah was about as far back as he knew. He lived just North of Fayette County, PA. I wonder if the "Stocks" lady has found out any more? Who were earlier ancestors?

Best wishes,

Clif B.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that set of discs. Discs may be purchased individually or as sets.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:
The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that set of discs. Discs may be purchased individually or as sets.

Please Note:
Submitter information is provided to help in the coordination of personal family history research. Use of this information for any other purpose, including marketing, advertising, or commercial solicitation, is strictly prohibited.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that set of discs. Discs may be purchased individually or as sets.

Please Note:

Submitter information is provided to help in the coordination of personal family history research. Use of this information for any other purpose, including marketing, advertising, or commercial solicitation, is strictly prohibited.
